

Do Heavy Periods Associated With Uterine Fibroids Affect You?

This Clinical Research is currently recruiting patients for this study.

Uterine Fibroid symptoms can affect any women, anytime, anywhere. If you are at least 20 years old and have heavy periods associated with Uterine Fibroids, you may qualify for this oral investigational medication research study. As a participant, you will receive all study-related care and investigational medication at no cost. If Uterine Fibroids affect your life, consider volunteering.
